Black house spider Wikipedia

The black house spider or common black spider (Badumna insignis) is a common species of cribellate Australian spider, introduced to New Zealand and Japan. A closely related species, Badumna longinqua, the grey house spider, has a similar distribution, but has also been introduced to the Americas. Ludwig Carl Christian Koch described Badumna insignis in 1872.

I'll Keep You Safe the sensational new Hebrides set

I was quite disappointed with this book. I am normally a huge fan of Peter May, but this book is nowhere near as good as most of his others. The ending was a bit unbelievable, and, even though I'm sure the Hebrides are stunning, I did get a bit bored with all the descriptions of the scenery.
