Gray's Anatomy film Wikipedia

Gray's Anatomy is an 80-minute film directed by Steven Soderbergh in 1996 involving a dramatized monologue by actor/writer Spalding Gray. The title is taken from the classic human anatomy textbook, Gray's Anatomy, originally written by Henry Gray in 1858. It was shot in ten days in late January 1996 during a break Soderbergh had from post-production on his previous film, Schizopolis.

Boost Spirit

A customization point is a code construct that the user can leverage to specialize how a particular library action is handled. A common way of implementing this in C++ is to define a template with the default behavior, and let users specialize it for their own types e.g., `std::hash`. This is the story of Spirit X3 and how it lets you specialize customization points without ever leaving seeing energy fields. I am often asked about seeing energy fields around the human body and the most common questions are What do you see? How do you see? Do you see coloured auras? Can you teach me? Seeing the energy field of any human being is the equivalent of interpreting their holographic blueprint or biofield.

Seeing Energy Fields

The Sistine Chapel Ceiling The Secret in Plain Sight

Totally agree we are not the body we are spirit and when our bodies die we leave and go back to the spirit realms, as i remember when i was three years old that i had lived before as a man and intuitively knew that there was far more than just this world, another example is i used to have two or three reoccurring dreams when they were exactly the same every time and a medium once described one
