A LANTERN IN HER HAND Project Gutenberg Australia

"A Lantern in Her Hand" was written to please no one but my own consciousness of the character of many of those pioneer mothers. It was written in the so-called "mad twenties" when most of the best-selling books were about sophistication, flaming youth, or far-flung countries.

A Lantern in Her Hand Quotes by Bess Streeter Aldrich

A Lantern in Her Hand Quotes. The wind was blowing from the east and the cedars bent before it, blowing from the east like the breath of the war god. And Fred and Stanley were waving their hats gayly back to her, while the cedars bent and the wind blew from the east. They were like her own boys marching off to war.

A Mother's Gift TV Movie 1995 IMDb

User Reviews. When I didn't realize that one of my favorite books, A Lantern In Her Hand, was being made into a movie until I saw it on TV. This is another case of an adaptation that strays too far from the book and with a few changes could have been an original story. The movie doesn't do justice to the book at all.
