Generations The History of America's Future 1584 to 2069

William Strauss and Neil Howe posit the history of America as a succession of generational biographies, beginning in 1584 and encompassing every-one through the children of today. Their bold theory is that each generation belongs to one of four types, and that these types repeat sequentially in a fixed pattern.

What's the Matter With Kids Today Not a Thing

"Millennials Rising" is the latest installment in a multipart sociological saga by Neil Howe and William Strauss. Their first volumes -- Generations, "13th Gen" and "The Fourth Turning" -- sketched their theory that the course of history is determined by the patterns of generational change, and they reprise that argument here.
