Problem with Panasonic NN CD987W Watts Convection

Failure of the magnetron is common and at times the inverter can fail as well. Sometimes the inverter fails on it's own. If your microwave blows the 10 amp mains input fuse as the cooking cycle starts then you probably need a new inverter.

SOLVED My Panasonic Dimension 4 microwave convection oven

My Panasonic Dimension 4 microwave/convection oven (NE9870) is dead. It was running, produced a small popping sound and is now completely dark. I've tried alternate electrical outlets and there are no circuit breakers tripped. This is a 27 year old unit, but would still like to recover it if there is a reset button or internal fuse. Any ideas

Genuine Panasonic Inverter Microwave Magnetron 2M261 M1

The reason for this is that as the lamp fails it can go momentarily short circuit and the pcb tracks get blown open before the main fuse fails. It is worthwhile considering a new lamp as it will prevent this from happening. New lamps have fuses fitted inside them.
