Nest box Wikipedia

A nest box, also spelled nestbox, is a man-made enclosure provided for animals to nest in. Nest boxes are most frequently utilized for birds, in which case they are also called birdhouses or a birdbox/bird box, but some mammalian species may also use them. Placing nestboxes or roosting boxes may also be used to help maintain populations of particular species in an area.

Nest Wikipedia

Nest building Purposes of nesting Structural purposes. Nest building is often driven by a biological urge in pregnant animals to protect one's offspring known as the nesting instinct. Animals build nests to protect their eggs, their offspring, or themselves from danger. The simplest nest structures are adapted to hide eggs from predators, shield them from the sun or other environmental factors

Some examples of predator guards are cone baffles or metal/PVC sleeves around the pole, tree, or post the house is mounted on. Many use them to keep squirrels out of their feeders, but they can also be used to keep predators from climbing up and into the nest box. There are also baffle blocks or Noel wire raccoon guards that can be placed around the entry-hole.
