Book Summary CliffsNotes

The Underground Man concludes that for the man of conscious intelligence, the best thing to do is to do nothing. His justification for writing these Notes from Underground is that every man has some memory which he wishes to purge from his being, and the Underground Man is going to tell his most oppressing memory.

Notes from the Underground Dover Thrift Editions Fyodor

In 1864, just prior to the years in which he wrote his greatest novels Crime and Punishment, The Idiot, The Possessed and The Brothers Karamazov Fyodor Dostoyevsky (1821 1881) penned the darkly fascinating Notes from the Underground. Its nameless hero is a profoundly alienated individual in whose brooding self-analysis there is a search for the true and the good in a world of relative values and few absolutes.
