Cider Wikipedia

Apples grown for consumption are suitable for cider making, though some regional cider-makers prefer to use a mix of eating and cider apples (as in Kent, England), or exclusively cider apples (as in the West Country, England). There are many hundreds of varieties of cultivars developed specifically for cider making.

Making Raw Apple Cider Vinegar at Home Ask a Prepper

The best apple cider vinegars are organic, unfiltered and raw (unpasteurized).. I personally use scraps (peels and cores). This way I get to eat my apples and make vinegar too. Or if you are making a pie or apple sauce instead of throwing away the scraps, you can start making your first vinegar.
