Soap Wikipedia

Soap is the term for a salt of a fatty acid or for a variety of cleansing and lubricating products produced from such a substance. Household uses for soaps include washing, bathing, and other types of housekeeping, where soaps act as surfactants, emulsifying oils to enable them to be carried away by water. In industry, they are used as thickeners, components of some lubricants, and precursors

Making Soap Without Lye Sort of The Nerdy Farm Wife

Possibly the most often expressed sentiment I hear, when it comes to soap making, goes something like: 'I want to make soap, but I'm really scared of the lye!' That is a completely justified fear and one that I shared for a very long time. It took months of research before I felt comfortable enough with the idea and even then, I had my husband handle it for the first few batches.
