smtp Exchange 2010 550 5 7 1 unable to relay Server Fault

This problem occurs because by default the receive connector in Exchange Server 2007 does not have its default domain value set. This is unlike the behavior in Exchange 2000 or 2003 where it automatically appended the default domain to values that are submitted to MAIL FROM: or RCPT TO: in the message envelope by a sending server if no domain name is provided.
